The average daily circulation of the Silver Belt during the month of November was

5027

The Silver Belt has a larger circulation than any daily newspaper in the world published in a city with 10,000 or less population.

AN IMPORTANT STEP.

The application by Geo. W. P. Hunt and associates for a street railway franchise over certain streets within the city limits of Globe is a move of very great significance and one that promises well for the Greater Globe.

While the promoters of this enterprise have not disclosed their plans, it is a pretty safe prediction to make that their application for a franchise within the city will be followed by a similar application to the county board of supervisors, and with these concessions granted, work will early be rushed on a splendid system of interurban railroads, with Globe the great pulsating heart of this wonderful network of glistering steel.

The necessity for such a road has been pointed out time and again by the Silver Belt and it is gratifying to note that one of the city's most influential business men has taken the initial step. No doubt eastern capital will consummate the scheme, but that is exactly what Globe wants—outside money.

The building of this line of street railways means that Globe will maintain her commercial supremacy in the face of all comers, not retarding, but on the contrary, aiding in the work of upbuilding suburban residential sections and thrifty little camps.

While the city line proper will be a source of great convenience, at this time it can be scarcely looked upon with favor as an investment unless, perchance, one takes a peep into the not far distant future. The simple announcement of the intention to promote such an enterprise paves the way and opens the gates to its success.

The growth of the suburban districts during the next two or three years will be wonderful—almost phenomenal—and adequate transportation facilities will give added impetus to the movement which should be encouraged by Globe in every way. Copper Hill is, at present, a thriving little settlement.

A town is rapidly springing up around the Superior & Boston and Arizona Commercial properties and the development of the Arizona Michigan calls for another settlement. Miami, the new town, bearing the name of the powerful mining company, will be one of Globe's largest suburbs. There is no doubt but what the proposed line will penetrate these points and follow rapidly in the wake of other mining developments.

The promoters of the proposed line should receive liberal consideration at the hands of the authorities and the people generally.

Gen. Canal appears to be cutting considerable figure in the Haitian situation. Under the circumstances, "Uncle Sam" may decide to have a look-in down there.

Suppose Mr. Rockefeller did give a waffer a 5-cent tip a few days ago. Perhaps we should be glad it wasn't more; at least, it doesn't foreshadow a rise in the price of kerosene.

A Michigan man has been sent to jail for thirty days for defrauding the government of two cents. He must congratulate himself that he didn't take a postal card instead.

"There is no reason why a burglar should not be a gentleman," says the Macdon News. But there are all sorts of reasons why a gentleman should not be a burglar.

A contemporary says Nord Alexis lost the presidency of Haiti because he would not stand for the grafters. Our private opinion is, however, that he lost it because he couldn't dig up any more graft for his friends.

IT DOESN'T PAY.

"It doesn't pay to kill people. There is nothing in it. It is not punishment because, in the language of the old Kentucky feudist who finally gave up the fight, 'the dead man don't know.' The punishment is all with the party who does the killing."—Exchange.

Although we never killed anybody, and, hence, cannot say positively that this is true, we think it is, nevertheless. We do not believe, save in very, very rare exceptions, taking the entire number of killings for the past twenty years, say, that anything has been settled by them, or any one of them. We even doubt the very, very rare exceptions mentioned.

Was anything settled, for instance, when Carmack was killed; when Stanford White was killed; when Annis was killed? Absolutely and utterly nothing! No great principle was vindicated; nobody's "honor," even, was preserved—that intangible thing we call "honor," what a wide variety of meanings attaches to it anyway! It is indisputable, however, that every separate one of these tragedies left an abundant measure of woe, regret, remorse, and bitterness in its wake. The end is not in sight for the perpetrator of any of these deeds—but the dead, they do not know. They are at rest—at peace!

What a hollow thing is mean revenge! It reacts upon the man who invokes it a thousand times more crushingly than it wounds the man toward whom it is directed. You do not punish a man—even one who has injured you—by revenging yourself upon him; not at all. There is another way to reach him; a way that is orderly and decent. People do not always choose that way, because they fancy, somehow, it is not manly to do it. Think of a man being afraid to do right!

No; it does not pay to kill people, we think. As the paper says, "It is not punishment"—that is, it is not punishment where punishment is intended. Better leave vengeance to a higher power. "I will repay," saith the Lord!

"It is always best to be frank and honest, even with Mr. Bryan," says the Columbia State. It is indeed; but some folks seem to find it hard to do.

"I'll welcome death," sings Mr. Driftwood Armstrong, in the Montgomery Advertiser. We hope this melancholy thought was not induced by the fact that Montgomery goes dry on January 1.

The harder "Brother Charles" strains his eyes seaward, the more firmly he becomes convinced that Senator Foraker's toga would exactly suit his style of beauty—"Brother Charles" style, of course.

If it were not for John D. Archbold and a few others, the Standard Oil company would probably get powerful lonesome for company nowadays.

Russia wants to borrow $200,000,000. Evidently has Christmas shopping on the brain.

"I have tried to be a gentleman and failed," said a Jackson (Miss.) man just before committing suicide. He may have thought he was trying, but we think he wasn't.

"Wealth confers no fame," says Mr. Carnegie. Still, nobody would believe he means it, we suspect, were he not wealthy.

"I am the servant of the house," says "Uncle Joe." The servant frequently is the real boss, you know.

Another round or two with the suffragettes, and that African hunt will loom on the horizon as a somewhat tame affair.

"But who is the Ananias-in-chief?" asks the Jacksonville Times-Union. Why seek to arouse jealousies in this peaceful society?

Probably President Castro of Venezuela would like for the world at large to understand that it isn't a place he may not go that he is looking for, but one he may.

A New Jersey man has a mania for washing his face and hands every few minutes. If the man lived in Pittsburgh, there wouldn't be anything so strange in his conduct.

It must be admitted that John D. Rockefeller is about as good on the defense as Miss Ida Tarbell is on the prosecution.

We regret to note irreverent intimations here, there, and yonder to the effect that the Congressional Record makes mighty fine stove wood.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Aids Nature.

HOME INVESTMENT ARGUMENTS ON BARGAINS

There are many cities which have grown to such an extent as to make the dirt upon which the city stands, very valuable. Globe rock makes Globe dirt in lots valuable for homes, either to the one who wants to keep from paying rent or to the one who wants to collect rent. The one who collects rent makes money by the business or he would not be in that line. The rent payer, by owning his own home and getting the increase of the value of property gains. No sage or seer of the past or present age has ever been gifted with the power to foretell the future of the growth of this or any city; but reason founded on actualities is most usually the head light which by good management guides the man of judgment and force on to success to a more or less degree in accordance to the amount of time and money he spends on backing his judgment. When lots were selling in New York at $10 per lot, many who claimed that they were wise, would not buy, yet there are acres in New York today worth many millions. Property here in Globe is on the increase in value—buying now means wisdom if you win, and it means lack of wisdom if you lose. But one thing is certain, if you do not take a chance with old dame fortune, you will never win. If your wisdom tells you to get your money to working in a good town where bargains are being picked up daily, just remember that the HOME INVESTMENT COMPANY is in the bargain business with lots and homes. Buying or selling, see the other fellow, then give us a call.

A CRIMINAL FRATERNITY

When a man becomes a "yegg" he practically loses the name that belongs to him. If there comes into a "yegg" camp a stranger who proves by his dialect that he is entitled to membership, "yegg" etiquette does not permit anyone to ask his name. "Where d'ye hail from?" is the query. If he replies that he is from Pittsburgh, they call him "Pitts Slim" or "Pitts Fat," or some other name suggested by his physical characteristics. There is a degree of cleverness sometimes in these names. A young man with a patch of gray hairs is known as the "Aged Kid." A hunchback with a wooden leg acquires the appellation of "The Pegged Hump."

The word "yegg" has been attributed to gypsy origin. When a thief showed special aptitude the gypsies elected him a "yegg" chief. Gradually the ordinary tramp or hobo, if he grew to be a skillful thief, came into the title of "Johnny Yegg," and finally the name was acquired exclusively by the wandering nitroglycerine expert of today. The outcast appears to embody what is worse in the gypsy and the hobo with the craft of one and the barbarity of the other added to a reckless daring of his own.

One of the most interesting phases of the fraternity of the "yeggs" is found in those rare exceptions, the "yegg" with a family and the "yegg" with a longing for a home. While most of them have no ties, it happens now and then that one boasts a wife and children. In that event, if he is arrested, other "yeggs" invariably provide for the family. The "yegg" with the longing for home occasionally gratifies his ambition by saving a competence, with which he returns to his native place. He then settles down in some business, and "yeggs" know him no more. If there is an inquiry as to what has happened to the absent one the reply is "He's gone home." All "yeggs" know what that means.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford have moved their family bakery to corner Oak and Hill streets, next to Episcopal church, and are now prepared to serve the public with home made baked goods. Orders taken. Closed Sundays.

Mrs. E. H. Harris gave a dinner party last evening. The guests were delighted with the coffee. Mrs. Harris always uses Folger's Golden Gate whole roast and grinds it herself, not too fine pulverized coffee is bitter.

Choked to Death
Is commonly said of babies who have died of the croup. How unnecessary this is. No child ever had the croup without having a cold or cough at the start. If you will stop the first symptom of the cough with Ballard's Horehound Syrup there is no danger whatever of croup. For sale by Palace Pharmacy.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. These tablets—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—remove blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effects are charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty. For Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply dissolve the unnatural blood pressure.

Brush your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain real? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend
